

SCOTT PERISHES AFTER SOUTH POLE FIND

Taft Hurries Three Cruisers to Mexico

WEATHER—Fair to-night and Tuesday; warmer.

FINAL EDITION.

The World.

WEATHER—Fair to-night and Tuesday; warmer.

FINAL EDITION.

"Circulation Books Open to All."

"Circulation Books Open to All."

PRICE ONE CENT.

Copyright, 1913, by The Press Publishing Co. (The New York World).

NEW YORK, MONDAY, FEBRUARY 10, 1913.

16 PAGES

PRICE ONE CENT.

THREE MORE WARSHIPS TO GO TO MEXICO

Growth of the Revolution Causes Taft and Cabinet to Take Steps for Protection of Americans.

COL. DIAZ PROCLAIMS HIMSELF PRESIDENT.

Madero Is in Flight, Zapata, the Bandit, Is Marching on City and Americans Are Under Arms.

Because of the gravity of the situation brought about by the Diaz revolution in Mexico President Taft and his Cabinet decided to-day upon the immediate despatch of three more warships to assist the Denver, now at Acapulco, in protecting American lives and property.

At the brigade post in Fort Leavenworth orders were received to-day to hold all troops in readiness to embark at once for San Antonio and other points on the Mexican border.

Felix Diaz, successful in Mexico City, has proclaimed himself Provisional President of Mexico.

CRUISERS RUSHED TO PROTECT LIVES; NOT TO INTERVENE.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 10.—At an extraordinary meeting of the Cabinet to-day it was decided to despatch three more warships to Mexican ports on the Pacific and the Gulf coasts for the protection of American lives and property.

Secretary Knox, who admitted after the meeting was over that this action had been taken, said that at present intervention was not being discussed, and that the despatching of the war vessels at top speed was taken merely to exercise a "moral force" in the turbulent state of Mexican internal affairs.

The cruiser Denver, now at Acapulco, on the Mexican west coast, en route to the port of Salvador, has been ordered to remain there. It is reported at the Navy Department that three cruisers of the lighter class will be rushed to the east coast of the disturbed republic—two to Vera Cruz and one to Tampico, in the north.

"Reports to the State Department say indicate that no Americans have been threatened or injured during the mutiny in the Mexican capital," said Secretary Knox, "but if the mutiny spreads, as it appears to be doing, Americans may be put in jeopardy."

Resolutions calling for the safeguarding of Americans in Mexico were introduced by Representative Hamill in the House and Senator Martine in the Senate. Both are from New Jersey. The State Department has ordered Ambassador Wilson to notify whatever Government there may be in the Mexican capital.

(Continued on Last Page.)

BRITISH EXPLORER, HIS CHIEF OFFICERS AND POLAR SHIP

LIEUT. CAMPBELL.

LIEUT. EVANS.

CAPTAIN SCOTT.

LIEUT. RENNICK.

SURGEON LEVIER.

THE TERRA NOVA.

LOST ANNA CLARK FOUND DROWNED UNDER THICK ICE

Discovery in Pond Near Railway Home Clears Mystery of Disappearance.

The body of six-year-old Anna Clark of Rahway, N. J., was found late this afternoon in Potter's Pond, close to her home. It was clear that the child had tumbled into the pond by accident, and the police of Rahway declared that there was no indication of foul play. The child has been missing from home a week.

The finding of the body effectually disposes of the theory at first held, that she had been kidnapped or had met with evil treatment. The body was found about six hours after Chief of Police David Ramsay and a force of men had bored many holes through the six inches of ice that covered the pond through which they probed its muddy bottom.

Anna Clark was one of the five children of Charles Clark, who is not financially well-to-do. There was a policy on her life for $50, the last premium on which was paid recently. At the same time, another child was born, making the stress of the Clark's circumstances additionally severe.

A dozen theories were held at the time the child was missed. She was last seen near the pond, playing with a fox terrier. The pond at that time was not frozen. Among the theories advanced was that the little girl had been run down by an automobile and her body thrown into bushes at the roadside. An idea that she had been kidnapped for ransom was abandoned when her parents' circumstances were considered.

Yesterday, so interested had the entire community become in the case, the Common Council of Rahway notified

JURY DECIDES AGAINST HUBBY CAMERON, WHO SUEW WIFE'S PARENTS.

Twice Married After Summer Vacation, Young Couple Found Little in the Way of Romance.

The jury that has been hearing the suit brought by Edward Lamont Cameron to recover $25,000 damages from Mr. and Mrs. Herman Ritschel, his parents-in-law, for the alienation of his wife's affections, returned a sealed verdict to Justice Newburger in the Supreme Court to-day in favor of the parents.

Cameron and his wife met at Hurleyville, N. Y., where they were both spending their summer vacation, in August, 1911. They thought that they were made for each other, and on the last day of their vacation slipped away from the village, came to New York, obtained a license and were married by an Alderman at the City Hall. It was not until two weeks after that they informed their families, and then they had a church ceremony.

Cameron declared that his father-in-law was incensed at their marriage and threatened to kill him, but on the other hand, Mrs. Cameron denied that her father ever threatened to kill her husband, but that her husband refused to shake her father's hand when they met the day of the church wedding, but hid behind a curtain. She also declared that her husband was so intoxicated the night of the church wedding that he did not know what he was doing and that she cried all night.

Chief of Police Ramsay said that it would pay a reward of $50 for the recovery of Anna Clark, alive or dead.

The pond is about fifty feet from the Clark home, 500 feet long and forty or fifty feet at its greatest width. Sheriff William Wright was much exercised over the case and criticized the Chief of Police for his lack of activity. He intimated that if Anna Clark had been the child of wealthy parents more zeal would have been shown by the authorities. To-day's search was the result of this prodding.

MRS. CLEVELAND BRIDE TO-DAY OF PROF. PRESTON

Marriage Takes Place Quietly at Princeton Ahead of the Time Expected.

Mrs. Grover Cleveland and Thomas Preston Jr. were married at 10:30 o'clock A. M. to-day by President John Grier Hibben of Princeton University in Prospect, the executive residence of the university.

No preliminary announcement had been made of the marriage and the utmost simplicity was observed in the ceremony. The marriage took place two months ahead of the time generally expected.

Because of the recent illness of Prof. Preston the wedding was private, the other guests in addition to the members of the immediate families being President and Mrs. Hibben, Miss Elizabeth Hibben and Andrew F. West, Dean of Princeton's Graduate School.

The bride wore a simple white silk gown and carried a bouquet of white Killarney roses. The wedding breakfast was served at Prospect immediately after the ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. Preston will spend the remainder of the winter in Florida. No announcement cards were sent out.

Falls to Death From Train.

Michael McCabe, a brakeman, was instantly killed to-day at Ninth avenue and Junior street, Maspeth, L. I., when he was thrown from a contractor's work train. McCabe, who was thirty-eight years old, and lived at Ninth avenue and Thirty-first street, Manhattan, was employed by the Arch Engineering Company. His neck was broken by the fall.

WALSH, FOYE AND NEWELL INDICTED, GRAFT GRAND JURY. IS ON TRAIL OF "BIG THREE"

Man on Bench of Lower Court May Be Reached After Sweeney Indictment.

INTO HEART OF "SYSTEM"

"Highest Up" Within Reach Through Efforts of Guilty to Keep Out of Prison.

The extraordinary Grand Jury, investigating police graft, returned indictments against the following persons to-day:

Police Captain Thomas W. Walsh, charged with bribery. He is accused of accepting money collected under his direction by Patrolman Eugene Fox from dives masquerading as hotels.

Edward J. Newell, a lawyer, charged with bribing a prospective State's witness, which constitutes a felony. There is another indictment charging a misdemeanor in this connection against Newell. He is accused of handing $700 as a bribe to a juror on the grand jury.

Patrolman Charles E. Foye, charged with perjury. Foye testified before the Aldermanic Committee that Alderman Curran tried to get him to "let up" on the prosecution of a saloon-keeper arrested in a raid. Curran has set up an alibi.

The Grand Jury, after handing down these indictments, adjourned until Thursday morning. It is expected that Capt. Walsh will be able to appear before the jury at that time and give testimony which will lead to the indictment of Dennis Sweeney, who is accused of sharing with Walsh in the graft to the extent of 50 per cent.

Lawyer Newell surrendered himself to the District-Attorney this afternoon. He was arraigned before Justice Goff and, by agreement between counsel, was permitted to defer pleading until Wednesday. Bail was fixed at $2,000 on the felony indictment found to-day and the bail of $1,000 on the misdemeanor indictment was continued. He furnished a bond.

Foye, the policeman, had not appeared at the Criminal Courts Building late this afternoon. The District-Attorney expects him to come in as soon as he has arranged for bail.

These indictments, District-Attorney Whitman believes, open the way to the heart of the system. There is already evidence at hand to show that the graft collections did not rest in Harlem—that part of them got downtown to Police Headquarters and was divided among at least three men, known as "The Big Three."

Capt. Walsh will be allowed to remain at his home, One Hundred and Twenty-fifth street and Madison avenue, although he is under indictment. He is very ill, but the District-Attorney's in-

BANKER HENRY IS INDICTED ON CONTEMPT CHARGE

Money Trust Committee Gets Arrest Order for Refusal to Answer.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 10.—George G. Henry of New York, member of W. Salomon & Co., bankers, was indicted by the Federal Grand Jury to-day for contempt of a Congress committee, for refusing to tell the House Money Trust investigators the names of twenty-four bank officers who participated with profit in a syndicate operation in California petroleum stock.

A bench warrant for his arrest was issued.

George G. Henry, who has been socially prominent for some years in Manhattan, N. Y., is well known in the financial district of this city. Before entering the private banking house of Salomon & Co. he was a vice-president of the Union Trust Company, where he established and became the manager of the bond department. Prior to this he was a vice-president of the Guaranty Trust Company.

Mr. Henry is a son of Rev. Dr. and Mrs. George A. Henry of Morristown. His wife was Miss Elizabeth Lloyd Lee of Alexandria, Va.

Cravath, Henderson and De Goro, of No. 32 William street, and ex-Senator John Spooner represent Mr. Henry. They announced to-day that they were going to fight Mr. Henry's indictment all the way to the United States Supreme Court.

Mr. Henry told a reporter for The Evening World this afternoon he wasn't the least bit worried.

"They had to have a test case," he said, "and every test case has to have a goat. In this case I'm the goat and that's all there is to it."

"What do you propose to do?" Mr. Henry was asked.

"Nothing. It's up to Washington to make the move. My lawyers will do anything for me that is necessary. I don't intend to go to Washington if they want me there I suppose they will come after me."

Mr. Henry wouldn't discuss the alleged contempt. He said if anything was to be said on that subject it should come from his lawyers.

Information is that Thursday will find him sufficiently minded physically to stand the strain of a trip to the Criminal Courts Building and a session with the Grand Jury with Walsh's testimony the indictment of Inspector Sweeney is considered certain. The Inspector is under suspension, and reported at Headquarters today in Chief Inspector Schmittberger, as required by police rules, Sweeney refused to discuss the case.

(Continued on Fifth Page.)

ANTARCTIC BLIZZARD KILLS SCOTT AND MEN AFTER REACHING POLE

Party in Dash With British Explorer Meet Death as They Are Returning Homeward From Successful Expedition.

FOUND THE SOUTH POLE ON JAN. 18 OF LAST YEAR.

Records Carried by Victims Show They Reached Spot Where Amundsen Halted a Month Before Them.

OAMARU, New Zealand, Feb. 10.—Capt. Robert F. Scott and his party were overwhelmed by a blizzard on their return journey from the South Pole. The entire party perished.

They reached the South Pole on Jan. 18, 1912.

The news of the appalling disaster which befell Capt. Scott and his companions was brought to this port by a signalled message from the Terra Nova, the vessel which had carried the explorer and his expedition to the Antarctic and which late last year went once again to the South to bring him and his companions back.

The total number of deaths involved in the calamity is not exactly known, but it is believed that sixty-six scientists and sailors lost their lives.

NEWS CASTS GLOOM OVER LONDON.

LONDON, Feb. 10.—Capt. Robert F. Scott, the British Antarctic explorer, and an unknown number of his companions perished amid the ice and snow covering the Antarctic continent while they were on their return journey from the South Pole. They had reached the goal on Jan. 18, 1912, about a month after Capt. Roald Amundsen, the Norwegian, had placed the flag of his country there. They turned back toward the bases they had formed on their outward journey, but were overtaken, overwhelmed and destroyed by a terrible blizzard.

Capt. Scott's party reached the exact point where Roald Amundsen planted the Norwegian flag at the South Pole. They found there the hut constructed and left behind by Amundsen's party. These facts were recorded in the documents found on the bodies of the dead explorers when they were recovered.

The news of the death of the explorers was brought back to civilization by the captain of the Terra Nova, the vessel which had taken Scott and his expedition to the South and which had gone again to the icy seas to fetch them back after the accomplishment of the task they had set themselves.

Only a few brief bulletins were sent from the New Zealand port of Oamaru by the captain of the Terra Nova, who related simply the fate of the party and then proceeded with his vessel for the port of Lytleton, where he expects to arrive on Thursday.

The disaster came as an utter surprise to London and cast a gloom over the community which has been unequalled since the death of King Edward.

HOPE DEATH LIST MAY NOT BE LARGE.

It is believed here that the disaster was not so terrible as had been gathered from the first reports, and it is thought that besides Scott himself only four others who had engaged with him in the final dash met their deaths. These are supposed to be Dr. E. A. Wilson, chief of the scientific staff; Capt. L. E. G. Oates of the Inniskilling Dragoons; Lieut. H. R. Bowers of the Royal Indian Marine, the commissariat officer, and Petty Officer E. Evans of the British Royal Navy.

The reason for this supposition is that Capt. Scott's main travelling party was to consist of sixteen men besides himself, while batches of four men each were to return at different stages of the journey, leaving Scott and four others to complete the final dash to the Pole. This would indicate that some of the members of the party who had been left at the various bases were not included among the victims of the disaster, and that it was they who communicated to the world the fate of the expedition.

The Terra Nova sailed on June 1, 1910, for New Zealand and the South Pole. Capt. Scott joined the ship later.

The expedition consisted of twenty-eight officers and scientists in

Visit the Land of "Work for All"

The journey is a short one if you travel in the right direction.

13,409

WORLD "HELP WANTED"

ADS. LAST WEEK: 7,633 MORE than ALL THE 6 OTHER New York Morning and Sunday Newspapers COMBINED.

They pointed out the prime opportunity to employment to those who followed the trail they blazed to positions worth while.

LET WORLD ADS. GUIDE YOU RIGHT THIS WEEK!

FOR RACING SEE PAGE 7.